Townline Group of Companies -- the Vancouver firm behind the Hudson in the old Bay Building, and more recently the acquisition of the nearby Radius project -- are in a giving mood this Thanksgiving. The development company announced three donations in its "neighbourhood," including a partnership with Trail Appliances to donate a washer and dryer to George Jay Elementary to wash school uniforms; $2,500 worth of socks and underwear to homeless service provider Our Place; and a $2,500 cheque to the Burnside Gorge Community Association for its benefits and outreach program aimed at the homeless and isolated families.
